Preface

This is a set of 4 indexes to the African Studies Review (1970-90), its predecessor the African Studies Bulletin (1958-69), and to the book reviews found in both journals and the now defunct ASA Review of Books (1975-80). Index 1: "ARTICLES" is a subject index to articles of one page or more appearing in both journals, with three bibliographic lists from the ASA Review of Books. Index 2: "AUTHORS" is an alphabetical list of the authors of the articles in Index 1. Index 3: "BOOK REVIEWS" is a list of authors with titles of books reviewed in the three journals, and Index 4: "REVIEWERS" is a listing of the reviewers of those books. All reviews are included except those for unpublished dissertations (totalling 7), textbooks without subject designation (4), and single issues of journals.<sup>1</sup>

ASA NEWS

Prior to the appearance of ASA News (then called the African Studies Newsletter) in March 1968, a considerable amount of the Association's business was conducted in the "News and Notes" section of the Bulletin. Although this section has not been indexed, the speeches of the Presidents, selected committee reports, the listing of courses with African content, the description of archive and library resources in Africa, Europe, and the U.S., as well as other activities can be located under the subject "ASA" and its committees.

Some pursuits such as the listing of current U.S. doctoral dissertations, have been superseded by more recent publications such as the American and Canadian Doctoral Dissertations and Master's Theses on Africa, 1974-1987, by Joseph J. Lauer. Many of these later reference works that list courses, discuss library and archival resources, and identify new books and journals on

In 1974 Dee Dickman compiled African Studies/Review Index, Volumes XI-XV, 1968-1972. The Bennett and Ylvisaker decennial index contains articles, some less than one page, including many with considerable detail on the Association's business and internal activities, e.g. committee reports, elections, grants, etc. The Dickman index contains a combined subject and author listing with the authors and titles of books reviewed at the end. This current comprehensive index supersedes the above indexes except for news and notes items discussed above of less than one page.

Africa, have their genesis in the pages of the Bulletin. The current reference work is noted in the text of INDEX 1. ARTICLES under specific subjects such as Bibliography, Library Resources, etc.

PAPERS OF THE ANNUAL MEETINGS

Also of interest to the members of the Association was the content of the papers of the Conference/Panels presented at the Association's annual meetings. Individual papers were sometimes passed out at the meetings, but others became available only later on microfilm. The early issues of the Bulletin include only brief abstracts of individual papers. However, because the original papers may no longer exist, the abstracts have been indexed here by the name of the convener of the panel when known, followed by the topic discussed, with the designation [abstracts] appearing in brackets.

Many of the Papers presented at the Annual Meeting of the African Studies Association for 1960 and subsequent years have been microfilmed and are located in libraries in North America and elsewhere. In 1976 the Association published Abstract/Index to A.S.A. Annual Meeting Papers, 1960/74, compiled by Daryl Dickman, but containing abstracts only for 1960, and 1965 to 1974. Access to the individual papers and those filmed is available through the OCLC and RLIN bibliographic networks in North America.
